SDG 6: Clean Water and Sanitation (July, 2022)

Water is an essential part of our lives, and we need it for different purposes such as drinking, cooking, cleaning, and production of important goods and services like food and clothes. However, in many parts of the world millions still lack access to this vital resource.

Companies can contribute in different ways to promote clean water and access for all, from ensuring a responsible use of water within their business operations to developing innovative water solutions for local communities in need. As young entrepreneurs, how will you support SDG 6: Clean Water and Sanitation?
